Kinovox new Scandinavian distributor of OMH loudspeakers

Kinovox – Denmark’s leading company within sales of musical instruments, sound equipment and digital imaging – will be the new Scandinavian distributor of the very renowned and professional loudspeaker systems from the British manufacturer OHM.

Copenhagen, July 6th 2006 – Kinovox and OHM have signed an agreement, which means that Kinovox will distribute OHM’s products in Scandinavia.

The British manufacturer OHM have delivered loudspeakers of the highest professional quality for over 20 years and their line covers systems from large solutions for live events to small installations in boardrooms etc.

“We are very proud that OHM has chosen Kinovox as their Scandinavian distributor, which underlines the fact that manufacturers in Denmark and abroad see us as the leading “sound house” in the Scandinavian market.” says Managing Director of Kinovox A/S, Christian Dahlager.

OHM’s products supplement Kinovox’s line for the live and installation markets and Kinovox has high expectations that the new brand will strengthen their position in these markets in all of Scandinavia.
